

The abandoned quarry demonstrates the sandy soils found in the eastern part of Warsop. It has become a fine habitat for wildlife.

Spot the mistake on the fingerpost signing the footpath!

As you gain height pause to take in the improving views back over Warsop.

Enjoy the views to the west over Nettleworth and Sookholme.

The triangulation point in this plantation is the highest point in Warsop (117 metres)

Directions

Leave Market Warsop along Oakfield Lane passing under the railway bridge and past the recycling centre. The lane is a BOAT (Byway Open to All Traffic) so there is a possibility of vehicles using this route. Continue past the side entrance to Redbrick House to Peafield Lane.

You may either turn right and walk along the verge of the busy Peafield Lane for 300 metres or, if you wish to avoid the traffic, carefully cross the road and enter the plantation opposite and walk along a rather muddy track that runs parallel to the road.

Turn right through a gate and follow the bridleway (BW19) down towards the farm. Take the path around the edge of the paddock as you approach Westfield House. The bridleway now becomes a surfaced farm road leading to the A60. Take care crossing the road and turn right alongside the A60 towards Warsop as far as Spion Kop.

Warsop Walks 4

This walk takes us around the south of the parish. We leave Market Warsop along Oakfield Lane heading towards Redbrick House and return via Westfield House and Spion Kop. You should enjoy fine views and see a variety of birds in the hedgerows flanking the lanes. We use all three types of right of way found in Warsop as we travel along a byway, a bridleway and a footpath.

This walk is about 6 kilometres and should take between 1 and 2 hours.
